The three PMU Nursing students interned at the Danang Women and Children's Hospital and the Danang Hospital of Traditional Medicine, with guidance from the DTU Faculty of Nursing lecturers. They had direct interaction with many patients, worked as ordinary nurses and then prepared their internship reports.

“I was very happy to intern with DTU in Danang,” said Kerstin Fahrafellner. “We worked in a professional environment and applied our newfound knowledge from patients, doctors and lecturers to practice nursing. We also volunteered for social work with other DTU students and lecturers at the Shelter of Love Center and visited the university’s Simulation Center. During our visit, we recognized that DTU provides the ideal conditions for a comprehensive, specialized education in Nursing, and we all had a wonderful experience there.”
