

The “2012 Beauty of Students through the Lens Contest” held at DTU

Appreciating the interests of students in local high schools, colleges and universities, DTU collaborated with MTV Vietnam is holding the “2012 Beauty of Students through the Lens ” contest for those who are fond of photography and self-confident enough to pose for pictures.

Vo Thi My Hanh won first prize in 2011

Starting in late November, the contest is creating a network of participants between locations.

It is very simple, so why don't you join the contest and win valuable prizes, materially and spiritually? You will be surprised by the hidden talent and creativity that the contest evokes.
