

Vocational Training Graduation

From the 28th to the 30th of June, 2010, DTU held final exams for five hundred vocational students.

In this course, DTU offers eleven majors, including technology, economics and tourism. Each student must pass a compulsory exam in socialist theory and practice.

Ms. Tran Le Ngan, a tourism student stated, “The vocational course requires that we focus on putting theory into practice, which is very demanding. Because of regular training in this, we all passed well.

Vocational training is one of the long-standing programs at DTU. High school students can enroll in these courses from July to October. After successfully completing this course, DTU students can apply to enter a degree program.

(Board of Website Editors)